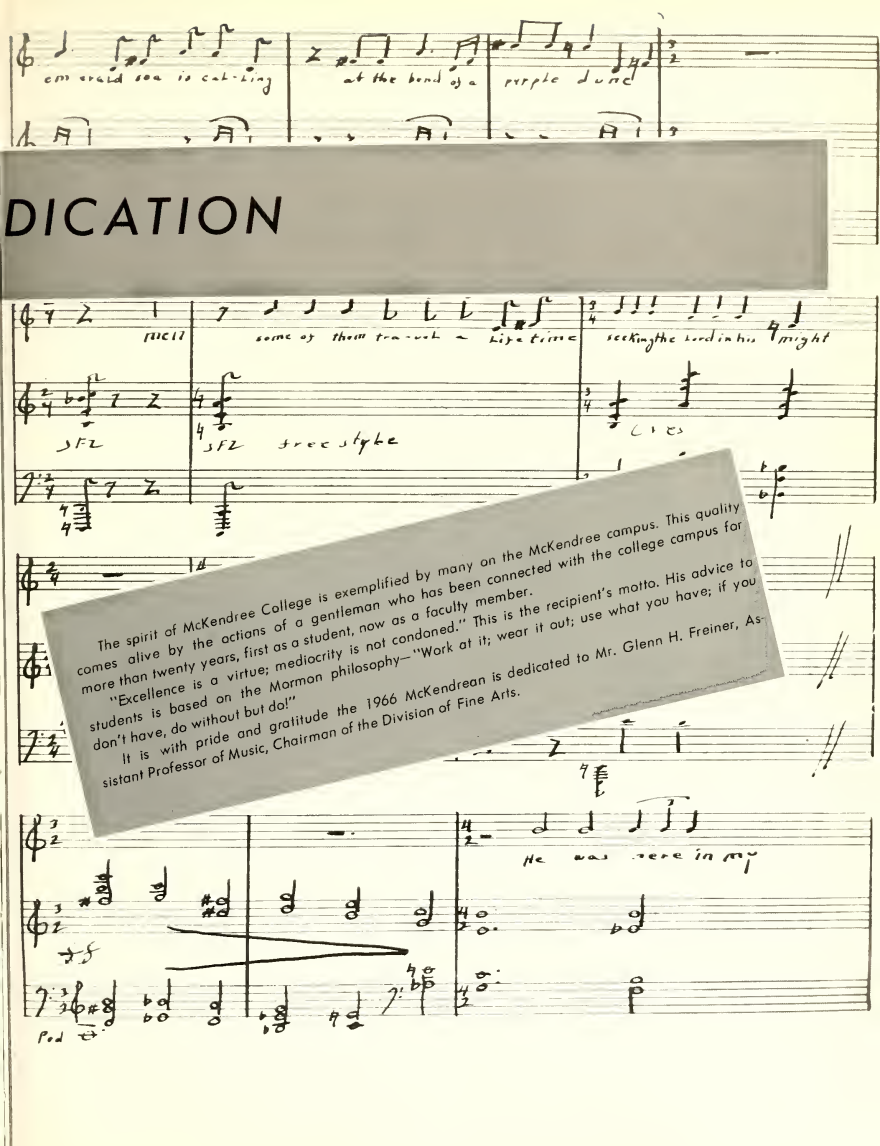
MC KENDREE COLLEGE

MC KENDREAN

1966

LEBANON, ILLINOIS

DE
Soliloquy
by Glenn H. Fromer



The spirit of McKendree College is exemplified by many on the McKendree campus. This quality comes alive by the actions of a gentleman who has been connected with the college campus for more than twenty years, first as a student, now as a faculty member.

"Excellence is a virtue; mediocrity is not condoned." This is the recipient's motto. His advice to students is based on the Mormon philosophy—"Work at it; wear it out; use what you have; if you don't have, do without but do!"

It is with pride and gratitude the 1966 McKendrean is dedicated to Mr. Glenn H. Freiner, Assistant Professor of Music, Chairman of the Division of Fine Arts.

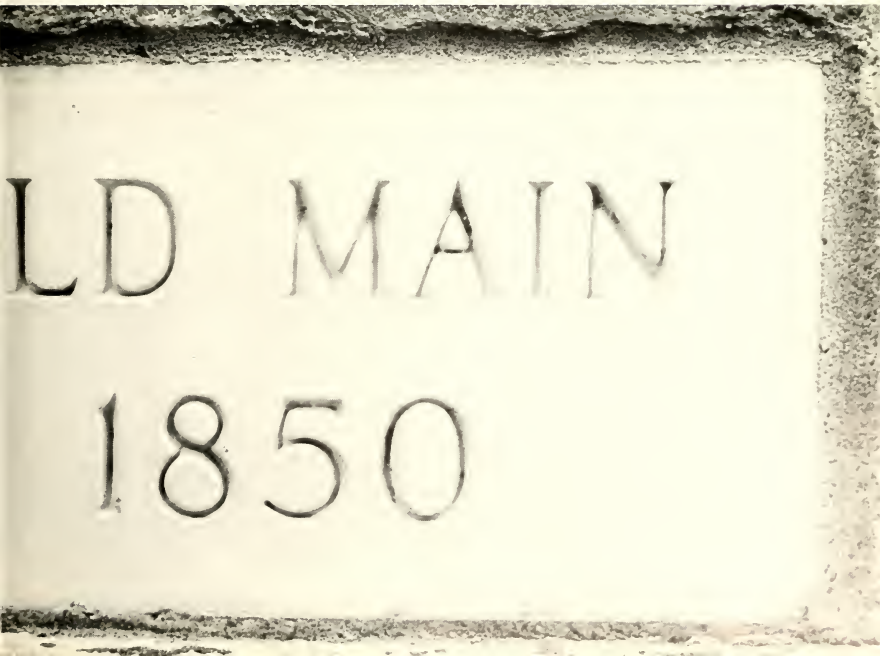
ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY



When President Mark Hopkins was a legendary figure in American education, it was said "A college is Mark Hopkins and a student sitting on a log." But now Mark Hopkins has to hollow out the log, fit it with spacious rooms, decorated in modern tempera, and supplied with innumerable gadgets. And Mark has to get the money, rather than sit down face to face with a student.

And a pity! Most presidents are of course glad to help get funds for brick and mortar, better educational facilities, and decent faculty salaries. However, so often such responsibility becames their major occupation, and the students, who after all are the only reason for a college, remain perfect strangers to them. The condition has not been true at McKendree, and it must never be allowed to come true. We hope the president will always be far more than the great money-getter, the caustic vetoer, the perfunctory diploma distributor to unknown seniors. Rather, may he always be a fellow student among students, a friend among mutual friends, and a true representative of all the best in learning, in the arts, and in the good life.

EDWIN EDGAR VOIGT
President

The door of opportunity is opened to young people of this age through higher education. This begins in personal growth as one comes into vital contact with the great ideas of mankind. It continues as the college graduate moves into the professional and industrial life of a complex society. Opportunities at a lower level may be diminishing but at a higher level they are expanding rapidly. The future of our society requires large numbers of able youth who are prepared to undertake demanding tasks.

DR. WENDELL S. DYSINGER
Academic Dean

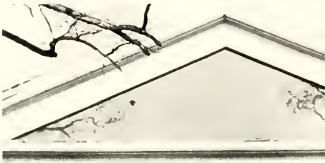
ADMINISTRATION . . . .

The value of an education is the sense of direction it gives to life. This paraphrase of Plato may well describe the McKendree College spirit. Classrooms and laboratories offer exposure to new and often great ideas, together with a challenge to explore frontiers of understanding. What takes place in the classroom, however, is not all there is to an educational venture. In a growing and going McKendree a dynamic setting is being created in which interesting and exciting experiences are inherent. New understandings from the classroom put to work in student life activities emerge as new purposes for life and a sense of direction are born.

DR. W. N. GRANDY
Dean of Students

Hours and quality points measure progress in the intellectual development of students who live in the most highly educated society the world has known. The Registrar's office not only keeps a formal record of such progress, but also offers to students the opportunity for systematic planning of future college years and transform the college opportunity into significant personal achievement. It can provide a sound basis for a student's life work and for the fulfillment of goals.

MRS. VIRGINIA GILLESPIE
Registrar



The Church affirms that Jesus Christ is Lord. The Religious Life Program of the College, planned by the Religious Life Commission of the Student Congress with the advice and counsel of the Director of Religious Life, is aimed toward making this affirmation relevant to a broken world. We are dedicated to an inquiry into the nature of truth—truth, not as factual knowledge, but as the meaning of knowledge. We are interested in truth, not as disinterested, objective discovery, but as profound personal experience. To wed "knowledge and vital piety"—to take captive the minds of men to the "mind of Christ"—is our purpose. We are concerned not with acceptance of belief or an interpretation but with a religious encounter.

Education

The teacher education program of McKendree College is based upon the following assumptions: education is a process of continuous growth; all persons are believed capable of making gains toward desirable personal and social goals; effective living now is the best possible preparation for future living; physical, mental, social, emotional, and spiritual growth are equally important; and improvement of the culture is anticipated. Given these assumptions, the teacher education curriculum proposes to accomplish the following objectives:

To help the prospective teacher discover as fully as possible the vocation of teaching.

To encourage the student in developing a personal philosophy of education.

To supply opportunities for the use of a variety of teaching techniques.

To familiarize the student with current codes of professional ethics.

To provide an introduction to the professional literature.

To create an experimental attitude toward teaching.

To develop competence in the subject areas taught.

To stimulate the desire for continuous growth through personal use of such professional media as meetings, literature, workshops, writing, and graduate study.

To encourage the prospective teacher to become a sensitive and participating member of the local, national, and world community.

FINE ARTS

There is an ever-increasing recognition that a knowledge of the fine arts and its literature is a vital part of a liberal education. It is the purpose of the Division of Fine Arts, therefore, to serve those who wish to make an intensive study of music and art so that they may become men and women of high ideals and usefulness as artists and teachers. The Division of Fine Arts attempts not only to develop those professionally interested in music and art, but also to contribute to the general education in the life of every student in the college.

BASKETBALL 1965-66

The McKendree Bearcats played one of their hardest schedules this year. They proved to be too tough for such mentionables as Western Illinois University, William Penn University, John Brown University and Iowa Wesleyan. Even though the court men are losing three starting seniors, these spots will be filled by some up-and-coming underclassmen who will undoubtedly prove to bring the court men of 1966-67 a victorious season.

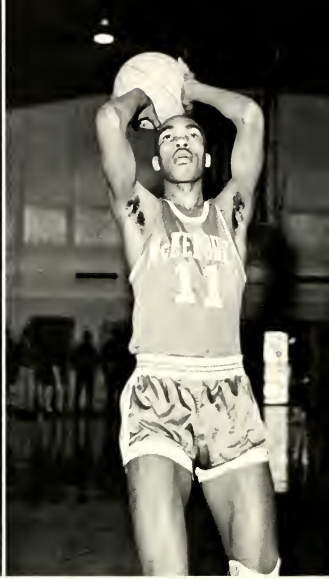
Tom Wheeler, a McLeansboro native, was the team quarterback. He can pass and defend with the best, likes to drive, and always gives that 100%.

Lester Long is a former all area performer from North Chicago High. He has terrific spring and his attitude and desire are tops. He is the key to the team's success.



Ken Dillinghom is a Mt. Vernon, Ill. product who proved to be an osset to this year's team. He has good eye, good speed, and is good off the boards.

Clarence Oliver from Maund City, Illinois, has all the "moves" to score—quick hands and good speed—and is a very good rebounder for size. He played guard and forward.

Vic Eskra springs out of reach of an opponent.

Ron Matikitis is a transfer student from Western Wyoming Junior College. An extremely hard worker, Ron has led the NAIA in field goals per centage. He entered the second half of the season with a 54 plus per centage. He is an important asset to the ball club.

THE ROAD NOT TAKEN

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

Robert Frost

When we who graduate came to McKendree, we chose one "road;" now the road we selected branches as we find it will do many times throughout our lives. With mixed emotions we leave McKendree and pursue other endeavors. We are anxious to select another "road" and meet and undertake new challenges, but we are sorry we will not be here to further utilize the many achievements accomplished this year.

For this has been an exciting year at McKendree! A senior who has spent all four years at McKendree, I have delighted in seeing the tremendous progress that has taken place since I first arrived on campus, the particular progress that has taken place this year. The many social and worthwhile cultural events, the new buildings, the increased enrollment, the highly qualified faculty, the inspection by North Central for accreditation—this is progress, and there is evidence more is to come.

Speaking on behalf of my staff, we have enjoyed sorting and fitting all the highlights from this year together; it has been an exhausting but rewarding experience. It is our hope that the time we spent in compiling and editing this book will be minute in comparison to the enjoyment you receive when reading the book now and in years to come.

As Editor, I thank my staff who put forth the effort to meet deadlines and who cooperated so well, and I thank all those who helped, especially those who gave us needed answers to last minute questions. I extend special thanks to Mr. Orville Schonz and to David R. Philip; without their help and cooperation, I could not have edited this book.
